To Whom It May Concern:

Please consider this a Letter of Reference for Mark Nunlist and Nunlist Enterprises.

Through the nature of the products and services we provide, we have a presence on a job site from conception through final trim out. Being one of the last in with appliances, management of the overall job timeline is instrumental to our success. Mark's jobs are done when projected – an accomplishment rare in this industry. This keeps costs down with all subs and enables him to deliver as promised, and on budget.

Mark was building energy efficient “green” homes before the terminology became a buzzword in the industry. This is another testament to the quality inherent in his projects.

I would not hesitate to recommend Mark for your building project – regardless of scope.
